PCN # 40065

Change Description:

COTSWORKS is identifying and qualifying alternate sources of supply for the optical sub-assembly components internal to its SX transceiver products. Once qualified, these alternate components will not change the optical performance specifications of any SX products as listed on the data sheets available at the time of this PCN.

All customers should contact their COTSWORKS account manager for further information and to discuss procurement of the current sub-assembly component for secure storage and selective use for periods after December 2020.
